

Market snapshot

Dow +0.51% · Nasdaq -0.18% · Brent -8.7%

S&P 500

7,413.18

+0.02% Mon · day 1 of 5

NASDAQ COMP

24,932.08

-0.18% Mon · NVDA -5%

DOW JONES

52,210.08

+0.51% Mon · +262.83

BRENT CRUDE

$88.36

-8.7% Mon · WTI $82.61

FED FUNDS

3.50-3.75%

decision Wed 2pm ET

BITCOIN

$65,333

+1.6% Mon · above $65k

Monday’s movers

FBRX +40.0% · ALAB −13.0%

bars share one scale, 0–40% · Monday 27 July only

▲ Monday’s advances		27 JUL
01	FB FBRX Forte Biosciences $77.00 +40.0% MON 27 · Agreed to be acquired by Argenx for $2.2bn in cash at $77 a share — a closed-end event, not a trend.
02	BH BKR Baker Hughes $61.97 +8.2% MON 27 · EPS 64c vs 50c est on revenue of $6.74bn vs $6.52bn, and closed the $13.6bn all-cash Chart Industries deal targeting $325m of synergies.
03	SP SAP SAP n/a +7.0% MON 27 · Launched the second tranche of the €10bn buyback announced in January.
04	BF BF.B Brown-Forman n/a +4.0% MON 27 · Rejected another unsolicited takeover approach from Sazerac.
05	SK SKHY SK Hynix n/a +3.5% MON 27 · Rose in Seoul on a $950bn AI partnership that lifted the Kospi — then its US ADR fell 7%, the round trip inside one day.
06	CN MCHI iShares MSCI China n/a +1.6% MON 27 · China ETFs bid after Changxin Technology’s Shanghai listing — the same IPO that gutted US memory names.
07	CR CRM Salesforce n/a n/a MON 27 · Traded higher, stabilising above short-term trend lines after a year-long decline. No percentage published.
08	XM XOM ExxonMobil n/a n/a MON 27 · Flagged pre-market as oil and gas names were bid early; the move faded as crude collapsed through the session.
09	NU NUE Nucor n/a n/a MON 27 · Materials led the advancing sectors. On the watch list into Monday; no closing figure published.
10	CL CLS Celestica n/a n/a MON 27 · Same watch list. No closing figure published.

THIN BY DESIGN

Monday’s upside was narrow and event-driven — a takeover, a buyback, an earnings beat. Four of the ten carry n/a because they were named as movers without a published percentage. Real estate,

▼ Monday’s declines		27 JUL
01	AL ALAB Astera Labs n/a −13.0% MON 27 · Profit-taking, index rebalancing and insider sales — yet still up over 113% YTD.
02	SD SNDK SanDisk n/a −11.0% MON 27 · Memory gutted again as Changxin’s Shanghai IPO landed. Its second 11% fall in three sessions.
03	AP APP AppLovin n/a −11.0% MON 27 · Traders cut high-beta growth exposure into the Fed.
04	EB EBD Everbright Digital $3.31 −8.1% MON 27 · Fell in the pre-market session and did not recover.
05	CP CAPR Capricor Therapeutics $18.20 −7.6% MON 27 · Pre-market decline; no company catalyst in the day’s coverage.
06	AM AMKR Amkor Technology n/a −7.0% MON 27 · Sold ahead of its own quarterly figures.
07	ST STX Seagate n/a −7.0% MON 27 · Storage caught in the same memory unwind.
08	KO KOS Kosmos Energy $2.45 −6.8% MON 27 · Energy was the worst sector as Brent fell 8.7%; Kosmos had already dropped 4% on Friday.
09	MU MU Micron n/a −6.0% MON 27 · Down again on the Chinese DRAM build-out. Reported between 4% and 6% across outlets.
10	AS ASML ASML $1,659.32 −5.6% MON 27 · Fell as much as 8% to its lowest since early June after a report that a Shanghai state-backed firm has begun mass production of immersion DUV lithography.

JUST MISSED

NVDA −5%, the single biggest drag on the Nasdaq · SKHYV −7% (ADR) · SPCX −4.4% to $110.05, a fresh low · IONQ lower as risk appetite faded. The Philadelphia Semiconductor Index is now down roughly 18–19% from its late-June high.

Ten to watch

FOMC Wed · MSFT & META Wed · AAPL & AMZN Thu

no prices — this board points forward, not back

● Ten to watch		27–31 JUL
01	FR FOMC Federal Reserve	– Wed 29
Decision 2pm ET, Warsh presser 2:30. A hold at 3.50-3.75% is the base case at roughly 62–65%, leaving a real 35–38% tail on a hike. September is priced at 82% .
02	MS MSFT Microsoft	– Wed 29
Reports into the capex question that cost Alphabet 7%. Azure growth against the spend required to deliver it.
03	MT META Meta Platforms	– Wed 29
The sharpest test: FY26 capex guidance of $125-145bn , and whether operating margin holds above the 41.4% printed in Q1.
04	AP AAPL Apple	– Thu 30
iPhone units, services growth, China, and product gross margin. The one megacap not spending itself into the question.
05	AM AMZN Amazon	– Thu 30
AWS growth, generative-AI order book, retail margin, and the full-year capex guide.
06	PC PCE Core PCE	– Thu 30
The Fed’s preferred inflation gauge, landing the day after the decision. Energy has been the swing factor and oil just fell 8.7%.
07	QC QCOM Qualcomm	– Wed 29
Handset demand and the licensing line, read across to Apple.
08	XM XOM ExxonMobil	– Fri 31
Reports into a crude price that has just given back two weeks of war premium.
09	CV CVX Chevron	– Fri 31
Same setup, same question on the oil price assumption.
10	BA BA Boeing	– Wed 29
Deliveries and cash burn; a bellwether for the industrial side of the tape.
THE THROUGH-LINE Alphabet fell 7.1% last week for raising capex while beating on every line. Microsoft, Meta and Amazon now answer the same question inside 48 hours, with Meta’s $125–145bn guide the single number most likely to move the tape.

■ The week, day by day		1 DONE, 4 TO TRADE
01	MON 27 Jul	–
Done. Oil collapsed 8.7%, the Dow closed up 0.51%, the Nasdaq fell 0.18% as chips sold off. Baker Hughes and SAP led; memory was gutted.
02	TUE 28 Jul	–
FOMC meeting opens. Consumer confidence. A quieter session before the two that matter.
03	WED 29 Jul	–
The day. Fed decision at 2pm ET, Warsh at 2:30 — then Microsoft, Meta, Qualcomm and Boeing report into the close.
04	THU 30 Jul	–
Apple and Amazon after the bell, with Core PCE in the morning. Two capex guides and an inflation print in one session.
05	FRI 31 Jul	–
Exxon and Chevron close the week, reporting against a crude price that has round-tripped.
WHY IT IS FRONT-LOADED Wednesday carries the Fed and two of the four megacap prints. If the capex guides and the dot-free statement pull in opposite directions, Thursday opens on a tape that has to price both at once.

Backdrop

Brent -8.7% · the war premium gone in a session

what set the tone

THE WAR TRADE UNWOUND

The US and Iran paused strikes over the weekend to make space for diplomacy, and Iran said it would hold off while the pause holds. Brent fell 8.7% to $88.36 and WTI 7.5% to $82.61. Caspian Pipeline loadings resumed, adding supply back.

CHINA MOVED THE CHIPS

Changxin Technology's Shanghai listing landed, and a state-backed Shanghai firm was reported to have begun mass production of immersion DUV lithography. ASML fell as much as 8%, memory names 6-11%. The SOX is down roughly 18-19% from its late-June high.

A SPLIT TAPE

Monday split cleanly: real estate, materials, consumer defensive and communication services rose, while energy and technology fell. The Dow made the gain, the Nasdaq did not — Nvidia alone took 5% off the index's biggest weight.

THE FED ON WEDNESDAY

A hold at 3.50-3.75% is priced at roughly 62-65%, so a hike is a live 35-38% tail. September is at 82%. Warsh has told Congress the committee has "no tolerance for persistently elevated inflation" and has dropped forward guidance entirely.

THE CAPEX QUESTION MOVES ON

Alphabet beat on every line and fell 7.1% for guiding FY26 capex to $195-205bn. Microsoft, Meta and Amazon now report inside 48 hours. Meta's guide of $125-145bn and its 41.4% Q1 operating margin are the numbers to watch.

STILL TO COME

Four sessions remain. Fed Wednesday 2pm, then Microsoft, Meta, Qualcomm and Boeing; Apple and Amazon plus Core PCE on Thursday; Exxon and Chevron Friday into a crude price that has round-tripped a fortnight of war premium.

Where this stands

Day 1 of 5 · the week's two tests still ahead

This is one session into a five-session week. Every equity figure is Monday 27 July's close, and four days remain — including the two that matter most. The Fed decides Wednesday at 2pm ET, and Microsoft and Meta report that same afternoon, Apple and Amazon the next. Anything here can be overturned by either. Crypto is Monday's level and keeps moving overnight; social buzz is continuous and will have drifted since it was sampled. Nothing on this sheet describes the completed week — that story is not written yet.

Crypto, ten largest

BTC $65,333 · total cap $2.3tn, +1.7%

by market cap · separate from equities

Bitcoin and the majors

27 JUL · TOTAL CAP $2.3TN · VOL $40.7BN

01	B BTC Bitcoin	$65,333	+1.6%	MON 27 · 24H +1.6% · Opened at $65,333 and held above $65,000 as the US-Iran pause drained the risk-off bid that had capped it all weekend. Reclaiming $65k was the level traders had flagged as opening $68k.
02	Ξ ETH Ethereum	$1,953	+4.3%	MON 27 · 24H +4.3% · The best major of the day, taking back $1,900 and then some. Still the one major green on the year at roughly +40% YTD.
03	XR XRP XRP	$1.10	~flat	MON 27 · Quoted at $1.10 at 8:39am ET, still inside the $1.09-$1.12 band it has held for four sessions. The most muted major on the board.
04	BN BNB BNB	$564.57	-0.4%	FRI 24 CLOSE · The steadiest major into the weekend; no weekend print published.
05	S SOL Solana	$76.33	+1.7%	MON 27 · 24H +1.7% · Up a third straight session off Saturday's $73.47 low, recovering the ground it lost as the worst of the top ten last week.
06	DG DOGE Dogecoin	~$0.072	-3.5%	MON 27 · Quoted in a $0.071-$0.074 band. Market cap about $12.4bn on 170.9bn coins.
07	TX TRX TRON	$0.33	+1.0%	FRI 24 CLOSE · The only major up on Friday. Steady network usage and stablecoin activity cited.
08	AD ADA Cardano	$0.16	-3.1%	FRI 24 CLOSE · Sold with the wider altcoin complex as Friday's risk mood soured.
09	LK LINK Chainlink	$8.32	-2.0%	FRI 24 CLOSE · Moved with the altcoin complex; no separate catalyst in coverage.
10	— tenth constituent not confirmed		n/a	n/a	Nine of the ten largest are listed above with sourced figures. No source in reach ranked the tenth slot for 24 July, so it is left open rather than guessed.
WHERE IT STANDS MONDAY
Risk-off drained out. Total cap $2.3tn, up 1.7% in 24 hours on $40.7bn of volume, with Bitcoin back above $65k and Ethereum the standout at +4.3%. DeFi led the tape — Aave and Ondo were the top performers of the day. The same US-Iran pause that took 8.7% off Brent is what moved this board.

Retail & social layer

CPRT +1,167% in 24 hours

REDDIT — HELD SEPARATE

This block is deliberately walled off from everything above. It is chatter volume and vendor-computed sentiment, not price or fundamental data, and it is not a source for any figure on the boards. Mention counts come from third-party scrapers polling r/wallstreetbets on short intervals, so rankings shift intraday and no two vendors agree exactly. Read it as a crowding indicator only. The percentages below are change in mention volume over 24 hours, not share of conversation, and the vendors sample different platforms — r/wallstreetbets, X, StockTwits, 4chan — so the two boards are not strictly like for like.

MOST DISCUSSED

INTC

The week’s runaway topic. Mention volume spiked +591% to +751% in 24 hours depending on the snapshot, on the Q2 beat and the capex reversal.

volume spike · direction mixed

MOST BEARISH

TSLA

Sentiment tracked 24-36 of 100 after the print, with the 30-day score around 28 — firmly bearish. Cited: deliveries, margin collapse, executive departures, BYD charging.

sentiment 28/100 · bearish

BULLISH CLUSTER

GOOG · NVDA · AMD

Flagged bullish with strong AI scores even as GOOGL fell 7.1% on the tape — a clean case of the crowd and the price disagreeing.

bullish · diverges from price

NO SPIKE BOARD TODAY

Last week’s sheet ranked names by change in mention volume over 24 hours — Copart at +1,167%, Intel at +591% to +751%. No vendor published comparable spike percentages for Monday 27 July, so that board is left out rather than carried over stale or refilled with a different measure. What sits above is rank by mention volume: who is being talked about most, not whose chatter grew fastest. The two are not interchangeable.

Worth noting: the crowd and the tape disagreed all Monday. Nvidia, Amazon and Micron topped the mention list carrying bullish sentiment while Nvidia fell 5% and Micron 6% on the day. None of Monday’s actual biggest movers — Forte Biosciences, Baker Hughes, Astera Labs, AppLovin — came near the top of the chatter.

How to read this

Single-session reactions, not weekly returns

How to read this. This issue covers a week in progress: Monday 27 July has closed, four sessions have not. Every percentage on the mover boards is that single session, not a weekly return, and bars share one 0–40% scale across both boards. Prices are Monday’s close where a figure was published; where a name was reported as a mover without a percentage or a price, the cell reads n/a rather than an estimate. The Ten to watch board carries no prices at all — it points forward, and ranking there is by expected impact, not by any realised move. Crypto is Monday’s level and keeps trading overnight. Green and red never carry meaning alone: every value keeps its sign and every row sits in a labelled board. Compiled after the Monday 27 July close from the sources below; nothing here is investment advice.

Data notes

Merged, averaged, and marked where thin

Index levels reconcile. Monday's closes were cross-checked against Friday's: the Dow at 52,210.08 is +262.83 on 51,947.25, the S&P at 7,413.18 is +0.02% on 7,411.98, the Nasdaq at 24,932.08 is -0.18% on 24,975.82. One outlet reported the S&P closing at 7,411.98 — Friday's number recycled — and that figure was discarded.

Mover percentages are single-session and vary by outlet. Micron was reported between 4% and 6%, ASML at both -8% intraday and -5.56% at the quote, SK Hynix as +3.5% in Seoul and -7% on its US ADR the same day. Where they disagreed the most widely corroborated figure is shown and the spread noted in the row. Four names on the advances board carry n/a: they were named as movers without a published percentage, and are shown rather than dropped because omitting them would misrepresent how narrow Monday's upside was.

Crypto is Monday 27 July, gathered from published market reports rather than an exchange feed. Bitcoin and Ethereum are opening prints; XRP is a timed quote at 8:39am ET; Dogecoin is a band, not a fix. BNB, TRON, Cardano and Chainlink had no Monday print in reach and keep their Friday close, each saying so on its own row.

Social buzz is chatter volume, never a source for any price figure. Monday is ranked by mention volume; last week's spike percentages have no Monday equivalent published, so that board was dropped rather than carried over stale.

Sources

56 in total

MONDAY 27 JULY – SESSION (1–12)
1. CNBC — Market news, Jul 27	7. CNBC — Midday movers, Jul 27
2. Washington Post / AP — How the indexes fared	8. CNBC — Premarket movers, Jul 27
3. Motley Fool — Dow rises, SanDisk –11%	9. Benzinga — Movers higher, Monday
4. Motley Fool — Midday, Nvidia weighs	10. Benzinga — Movers lower, pre-market
5. Yahoo Finance — Monday live blog	11. Investrade — Morning preview, Jul 27
6. Yahoo Finance — Market news, Jul 27	12. Benzinga — Futures rise on Iran halt
SINGLE NAMES (13–22)
13. StocksToTrade — BKR beat and $13.6bn deal	18. Yahoo — SanDisk –11%, Seagate –7%
14. Investing.com — Baker Hughes CP2 order	19. Benzinga — SpaceX slides to $110.05
15. TradingKey — $950bn AI deal lifts Korean chips	20. Benzinga — Nucor, Celestica to watch
16. FXLeaders — NVDA, MU, SNDK plunge	21. Seeking Alpha — Memory falls despite ASML
17. Intellectia — AI chip valuation concerns	22. 24/7 Wall St — Korea chip selloff
OIL, THE FED AND MACRO (23–34)
23. CNBC — Brent below $90 as pause holds	29. CNBC — Fed likely to hold
24. Rigzone — Brent tumbles ~9% on diplomacy	30. Morningstar — What to expect from July FOMC
25. NBC News — US and Iran pause strikes	31. CBS News — Will the Fed raise?
26. CNN — Live: pause allows talks	32. TradingKey — July FOMC preview
27. CNN Business — Why oil keeps tumbling	33. Intellectia — Fed decision analysis
28. Trading Economics — Brent, US–Iran talks	34. Federal Reserve — FOMC minutes, June
THE WEEK AHEAD (35–42)
35. CNBC — Outlook, Jul 27–31	39. Seeking Alpha — Earnings week ahead
36. TipRanks — Earnings to watch	40. Earnings Watcher — Calendar and expected moves
37. FXLeaders — MSFT, META, AAPL, AMZN	41. Yahoo Finance — What to watch
38. TradingKey — Weekly preview	42. ii — US Q2 2026 earnings season
CRYPTO (43–50)
43. Yahoo Finance — BTC and ETH, Jul 27	47. CaptainAltcoin — SOL, XRP, DOGE levels
44. FXStreet — Asian wrap, 27 July	48. Sunday Guardian — BTC, ETH, XRP levels
45. CoinGabbbar — Crypto news, Jul 27	49. CoinGape — Market brief, Jul 25
46. Forbes Advisor — Top 10 cryptocurrencies, Jul 27	50. CryptoSlate — The $65k reclaim level
REDDIT & SOCIAL – SEPARATE, NOT USED FOR ANY PRICE FIGURE (R1–R6)
R1. AltIndex — Most mentioned Reddit stocks	R4. Tradestie — WSB most active
R2. AltIndex — r/wallstreetbets mentions	R5. Adanos — Reddit top 100
R3. ApeWisdom — WSB trending	R6. DingFeed — Most mentioned WSB